E-Loon,

I was so disappointed to read your incredibly stupid and racist commentary on the southern border recently in the New York Post:

<https://nypost.com/2023/09/28/musk-warns-some-pretty-extreme-individuals-entering-us-at-southern-border/>

As I've demonstrated in Russia, Germany, Canada, Luxembourg, Switzerland, the United Kingdom, and Belgium in the relatively recent past, most migrants EVERYWHERE are criminals in one way or another. Most are just running from the cops at home, or in rare cases, from guys like Mohammed bin Salman, who is an ENORMOUS great man of our time who is better than police by orders of magnitude at keeping societies functional. Unlike you and your Nigger-built, Faggot-serviced battery powered jalopies that are finally offering Soviet Ladas the chance to be well-built antique treasures in the minds of an entire generation in the former USSR.

Tattoos signifying numbers of murder victims are therefore pretty insignificant, then, aren't they. But they don't just signify the number of victims; they indicate the perpetrators' own sense of morality and guilt about the matter. In that sense, I like the tattoos. I'd prefer to know which migrants have killed somebody without having to run a pan-American criminal record search. Tattooing it on your body is great. My bet is that it ends up having zero predictive capacity for their behaviour in America anyway relative to their cohort of migrants, i.e., the ones who have killed somebody in the past and gotten a tattoo about it are probably no more likely to kill somebody in America than any other migrant.

Now, I know that this isn't the problem for you. Your problem is that you're a Nigger-Code Nigger-Builder. And YOU can't do your usual Nigger-Building with a guy with a teardrop tatoo. Can't have him in front of the press, can't take him to the club, etc. Can't put THAT Nigger-Man in a suit the way you'd do with the oh so special ones you've already hired, can you. Those ones the Fed printed all that money for, the ones that are just one or two Pantone shades up the White Anglo Field Peasant food chain of adverse-selection.

Save it. Just stop talking. You're a fucking idiot.
