

Political asylum questions

avril 07, 2023 23:31 PM

From: James Meng <james.meng@yandex.com>

To: "olaf.scholz@bundestag.de" <olaf.scholz@bundestag.de>

Negrolaf,

Below is an email just distributed to prosecutors all over Europe; the UNHCR; anti-corruption authorities; etc.

I don't know or care what you want to do about it. I have simply given up on 'Germany. And not only that - I am now casting an even wider net in terms of countries I am willing to help in exchange for asylum. Switzerland, Cuba, Venezuela now have my full asylum file. The first to respond and agree to provide appropriate asylum arrangements is the one that will win. I am not willing to tolerate ideologies, requests for money or other commitments. Functionality is the only attribute up for consideration.

It will be interesting to see who wins. With the west doomed to failed state status thanks to labor market inversion, a state that can commit to functionality and reliably deliver it will immediately supplant Germany, globally. Such a state will be worth more than you and your 80+ million little nigger kids overnight.

Suck a dick, you worthless nigger swine

James W. Meng

----- Forwarded message -----

10:09, 7 April 2023, James Meng <james.meng@yandex.com>:

In the early hours of 28 March I was illegally deported from Germany to Belgium. At 4:30am a group of five police officers and a massive police dog came to my door, opened it, handcuffed me, and packed my things and took me to the Belgian border at Aachen, where I was then freed and handed over to the Belgian police, who had not been notified of anything until the very last minute.

In Germany there were no grounds for my deportation. I had not even been permitted to have the second asylum interview, after someone cut the electricity to the government complex during their first attempt. The interview was never rescheduled. Additionally, I had applied for a medical deportation ban on the basis of many medical reports documenting the serious poisonings I have suffered over the years at the hands of the US Government and the ethnic Jewish organized crime interests that they have used to destroy my life. But the Germans also refused to complete the medical review, and then issued an erroneous decision through the Stuttgart administrative court where they refused to review any of the evidence I provided and accused me of completely fabricating the entire case.

There were, therefore, no grounds for the deportation order. I do not have a copy of it - I was not given one, even when I asked - and I presume that this is because it was illegal for them to have issued it.